Dear Mali and Osnat,

I am so excited for both of you on the launch of ATID Center.

I know both of you as amazing teachers, and I can't wait to see you succeed in creating an educational facility that will provide Israeli/American/Jewish children a place to learn the roots of their family traditions, values, English/Hebrew language skills and so much more.

There are many good teachers all around, however, you both have a unique style of teaching children in a way that creates excitement, love of learning and deep comprehension. This is a special skill that I'm sure will bring many families to your center to instill the special gifts you have in their children.

Wishing you lots of success,

Hanna Livni
